CELLO AND PIANO DUO TO PERFORM TUESDAY

PATRICIA SPEDDEN, piano, and DAVID REZITS, cello, will present a recital in Reed Hall Room 160 at noon on Tuesday, April 11. The Ft. Wayne pair graciously stepped in when the Trio Tulsa was unable to fulfill its engagement.

A recipient of the Rudolf Ganz Award for piano performance as well as winner of several concerto competitions, Dr. Patricia Spedden has appeared as piano soloist with symphony orchestras in Maine and Indiana. The New York City native has collaborated with many chamber groups including "Deux Mondes" and "5 + 1." She is an Associate Professor of Music at Huntington College in Indiana.

As a young musician, David Rezits was awarded 5 scholarships to the Interlochen Music Camp in Michigan. He continued his education at Indiana University at Bloomington and at the University of New York at Stony Brook where he completed his master's degree in cello performance. Following graduation, he became assistant principal cello with the Orchestre Symphonica Brasileira in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. He then became the principal cellist with the Haifa Symphony Orchestra and followed that stint with a position as associate principal cellist with the Florida Orchestra in Tampa. He is presently a cellist with the Fort Wayne Philharmonic Orchestra.
